What after your bachelor?

Studying in Brussels, Wallonia or abroad

Dear student,

You will soon graduate and obtain the diploma of Bachelor in Business Management, Bachelor in Office Management, Bachelor-after-Bachelor in Advanced Business Management, or post-graduate. Such a degree opens doors and offers you several opportunities on the labor market.

But maybe you find your student life too nice and exciting to give that up already and you consider studying further.

UC Leuven-Limburg offers several follow-up programs, which broaden and deepen the competencies that you have acquired in your bachelor programme. You can find more information on www.ucll.be.

You might consider continuing studying in another language or in another country. Or perhaps you would like to gain some experience during an international work placement. In that case, this brochure can be a first step in guiding you. This brochure provides you with an overview of programmes that connect to your current degree, and that are taught in several institutions (most of them are partner institutions) - in Brussels, in Wallonia and abroad. Group Management & Technology has signed a cooperation agreement with a number of those partner institutions so you can study there at special and favorable terms.

You can also find an overview of interesting websites, best practices , a brief explanation of the recognition of foreign degrees and of the student service.

You can always come to the 'International Office' for more questions and information, room D210.

Good luck.

RECOGNITION OF FOREIGN DEGREES

The added value of a master's degree is known. If you have, furthermore, studied in a foreign language as well as in an international environment, then this can only provide an additional value for the development of your career. Studying abroad strengthens your future possibilities in business and aids your personal development.

Companies and organizations experience the need for employees eager to cross borders both physically and mentally. Obtaining a master's degree in a foreign university will certainly help and is highly valued in the business world. Many alumni who have studied abroad, occupy important functions in different companies today.

It is important to know that, if you want to work for a government agency in Belgium, your foreign degree will be subject to a number of administrative conditions. One of those conditions is that your foreign diploma becomes recognized as equivalent to a national diploma. NARIC is the organization that investigates this recognition in Flanders, for which you have to submit an individual application. More information on the academic recognition of equivalence of foreign degrees can be found on www.ond.vlaanderen.be/naric.

STUDENT SERVICE

If you want to get more information about your social status while you are abroad or if you have questions regarding a student grant, you can always visit the Student Service of the UC Leuven-Limburg. This student service offers you, in cooperation with UC Leuven-Limburg , KU Leuven and other partners, an impressive service.

You can find information on:

- intranet.ucll.be/nl/content/diensten-voor-studenten (in Dutch)
- www.kuleuven.be/studentenvoorzieningen/socialiedienst/statuut (in Dutch)
- www.kuleuven.be/english/studentservices/socialservice (in English)

Furthermore, you can also visit the Social Services Department of KU Leuven each working day between 2 pm and 5 pm. The consultants believe it is important that they can make time for you, and ask therefore to be present in time (preferably at 4.30 pm at the latest). You can also make an appointment with one of the consultants.
